SCHOOL STUDENT BROADBAND INITIATIVE (SSBI)

Dear Parent/Caregiver

There is a great new initiative to support families with children at school, and who may be struggling with the cost of living.

Essentially, families can get free internet from now until the end of 2025 if they meet some very loose criteria;

- One child at home enrolled in an Australian School
- Live in a premise that can access the NBN network
- Not have had an active NBN connection during the previous 14 days from time of application (mobile internet service does not count).

Anyone can self-nominate through the link below. The internet is provided through reputable providers like: Aussie Broadband, Telstra and Vodafone (to name a few) – and families can choose their preferred provider.

All the information you require can be found through the link below:

School Student Broadband Initiative | nbn \(nbnco.com.au\)

We hope this may be of assistance to some of our families.

Regards
